Targeted industry knowledge and expertise just when you need it

As organizations evolve, staffing needs expand and contract. RightsDirect's RightFind™ Information Management Staffing Services provide you with the expertise and targeted industry knowledge just when you need it, whether on-site or on-call. Operating as an extension of your team, RightsDirect experts free up your existing staff to focus on strategic priorities, without sacrificing service and quality levels or interruption for internal clients.

Information Management Staffing Services provide:

- Industry-specific, information management expertise
- Cost-effective, customized staffing solutions
- Seamless integration with existing operations

From complete library management to specialized services such as managing your library help desk, administering your organization's regulatory documentation requirements, taxonomy, and providing advanced search services, RightsDirect's Information Management Staffing Services deliver the expert staff to manage your library efficiently and effectively.

RightsDirect's team has experience providing such services in a wide range of industries, including:

- Pharmaceutical
- Chemicals
- Biotechnology
- Energy
- Medical and health sciences
- Technology
- Medical devices
- Engineering
- Consumer products
- And more...

Having partnered with some of the world's largest R&D-focused organizations to address their staffing needs, we know that every situation is unique. Our team will work with you from day one to address the specific needs of your organization and provide you with the assistance you need, when and where you need it at a price point that makes sense.
